TO TEACH IS
TOUCH
A LIFE
FOREVER

The English Teacher Training program trains teachers for one of the most important and essential subjects in the education system! It prepares teachers to teach English in junior high and high schools. This academic course is intended for those with a bachelor's, master's, or doctoral degree in English.

The English Teacher Training Program provides broad and in-depth knowledge of English-as-a-second-language (ESL) teaching in order to create stellar teachers. The program introduces many methods and tools and includes teaching experience in state of the art technology studios at Bar Ilan

University through guided simulation. The training is done by lecturers and teachers who teach in the field. Additionally, in order to provide the necessary knowledge in the professional field, the program includes courses on a variety of pedagogical topics such as:

'Fundamentals of Psychology', 'Multicultural Education', 'Teaching for Students with Special Needs' and more.

Studies are two years and take place on Sundays and are a total of 24 hours; some of which is taught online. The track offers a unique program for Ph.D. students that includes 16 hours. In light of the fact that English teaching is a preferred profession, scholarships can be obtained from the Mifal Ha'Pais Lottery. There is a string academic setting that places graduates of the program in high positions in every job interview for a teaching job.

Academia is waiting for you, here at Bar-Ilan University!
